

TERRACORPS

TerraCorps, TerraCorps is an AmeriCorps affiliated start-up environmental non-profit preparing and mobilizing emerging leaders to help communities gain access to and conserve land for people and nature. Working at the intersection of the land conservation and urban agriculture movements, our vision is to create a future where land is the foundation of health and well-being for ALL people in EVERY community.

This year's TerraCorps program will support up to eighty-eight full-time AmeriCorps Members across three states (MA, RI, and CT), serving in one of five positions: Land Stewardship Coordinator (LSC), Regional Collaboration Coordinator (RCC), Community Engagement Coordinator (CEC), Youth Education Coordinator (YEC), or Sustainable Agriculture Coordinator (SAC). Members will serve in full-time, 11-month terms (August 31st, 2020-July 30, 2021) in which they complete at least 1,700 hours of service with one of our partner organizations. Members receive a living allowance, education award, and additional AmeriCorps benefits (see full list at end of announcement).

Mount Grace Land Conservation Trust will host a Regional Collaboration Coordinator for the 2020-21 service year. Information about all TerraCorps positions is available at terracorps.org.

Mount Grace Land Conservation Trust (Mount Grace) is a regional land trust that is deeply rooted in collaboration. Since 1986, we have worked with dozens of partners and hundreds of landowners to protect more than 34,000 acres of woods, streams, farms, and trails in our picturesque rural region. Nestled between Gardner and Greenfield and anchored by the Quabbin Reservoir and its thousands of acres of pristine trails, we are working throughout 23 towns to foster a deep conservation ethic. We are nationally recognized for our innovative and collaborative projects, and Mount Grace was the home and founder of the TerraCorps program. Four of our eleven staff are AmeriCorps alumni, three of whom served with TerraCorps specifically. This year, we are hosting four TerraCorps Members who will be fully integrated into our conservation, stewardship, and engagement teams. We are committed to developing the next generation of conservation leaders, and we are continually inspired by the creativity and vision of the TerraCorps Members who choose to join us each year.

Our region is beautiful and precious—and has benefited from a tremendous legacy of land conservation—but we have so many more people to reach and land to protect. We are ready for the the 2020-2021 team to help us create the next chapter of Mount Grace’s story.

Regional Collaboration Coordinators (RCC) build the long-term capacity of their Service Sites by assessing community needs related to land conservation and land access and then organizing collaborative community projects to help meet these needs. They convene and coordinate municipal boards, all-volunteer local land trusts, planning agencies, academic institutions, nonprofits, government agencies, neighborhood groups, community housing associations, and local businesses to build regional networks, and organize collaborative cross-sector working groups to initiate new projects around community needs. By educating landowners, farmers, and community groups and organizing multi-stakeholder projects that increase access to funding, RCCs empower diverse people to create healthy, vibrant communities.

TerraCorps Members engage with their supervisors to develop and carry out three or more capacity building projects over the course of the service year. Some of these projects will involve recruiting, training, and/or managing community volunteers. Mount Grace Land Conservation Trust has proposed the following potential projects for their Regional Collaboration Coordinator:

- 1) Lead a team to organize the annual statewide Open Space Conference. The conference is designed for people volunteering on town boards and committees who are interested in conservation and stewardship. This free, peer-to-peer conference seeks to empower local volunteer conservationists with stories and lessons they can take home and apply in their own communities.
- 2) Coordinate the North Quabbin Regional Landscape Partnership. The Partnership is the second-oldest regional conservation partnership in New England, and includes landowners, land trusts, foresters, planning agencies, academic institutions, state agencies, and town government partners. The RCC will help plan and lead quarterly meetings to bring partners together to share information about urgent topics in our region, such as climate change planning, and to advance shared priorities, including multi-partner conservation projects.
- 3) Collaborate with town partners to conduct direct landowner outreach through workshops and site visits designed to boost awareness of and engagement in sustainable forest management.
- 4) Create workshops designed to engage woodland landowners in long-term thinking about their land and the legacy they hope to leave with it.

Development of these and other projects will occur during the first two months of service and consider the member’s interests and skills.
